

7
C104

These jack purlins are behind the section line. Not sure why but they are remaining visible. If I select the framing ( they are all in a family created in situ ) and open the family for editing, the members behind the section disappear as they should remain.